

NPR on SUMO - Courtesy Only A Game

For all sumo fans stateside, and those with access to the Internet, (US) National Public Radio's Only A Game series will May 10th carry a story on sumo, the 2007 Asashoryu affair et al. and the supposed decline in popularity of the sport - recorded during the recent Haru Basho in Osaka.

Interviewed along with several

Japanese attending Day 12 of the action in Osaka, SFM Editor, Carolyn Todd, and Ed-i-C, Mark Buckton who worked with Ken Shulman on the story in Osaka may have made the final cut - May 10th they will find out!

For local broadcast timings see the Only A Game homepage at <http://www.onlyagame.org/>